Join the Center for Civil Rights and Racial Justice in a conversation with Baher Azmy (Legal Director of the Center for Constitutional Rights) and Professor Jules Lobel about the case Defense of Children International-Palestine v. Biden, filed by the CCR in November 2023.

The lawsuit, brought by Palestinian human rights organizations and individuals affected by the crisis, alleges violations of international law, citing the Genocide Convention. Azmy, with his expertise in civil and human rights litigation, will provide insights into the legal dimensions of the case, exploring the historical context and the defendants' role in the ongoing crisis.

Don't miss this opportunity to gain a deeper understanding of the legal and human rights implications of the case, engaging in a critical dialogue with Azmy and Professor Lobel.

Professor Sheila Velez Martinez will lead a fire side chat with the panelist and invite them to examine the complexities of the situation and its potential impact on international law and human rights.

Register for the event here by February 29, 2024. Light refreshments to be served.
